

CHILDREN IN TRAUMA

January 11-12, 2008 – Chico, CA

2008
CONFERENCE

Helping Children Survive Trauma: Early Life Stress, Brain Development, and Effective Interventions

presented by Victor G. Carrion, MD

Stanford University, Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences and Director of the Stanford Early Life Stress Research Program

An intensive, two day practicum into how traumatic stress can alter early development, how to recognize this problem, and what to do about it.

- ▶ January 11-12, 2008    ▶ 9AM-4:30PM
- ▶ California State University, Chico campus, Bell Memorial Union Auditorium

Who should attend

- ▶ Psychologists
- ▶ Marriage and Family Therapists
- ▶ Social Workers
- ▶ Counselors
- ▶ Psychiatrists
- ▶ Educators
- ▶ Attorneys
- ▶ Child Custody Evaluators and Mediators
- ▶ Behavioral Health Professionals
- ▶ Nurses
- ▶ Physicians
- ▶ Children's Advocates

Dr. Victor G.

Carrion's presentation will focus on the interplay between brain development and stress vulnerability via a multi-method approach and on the development of individual and community-based interventions for stress related conditions in children and adolescents that experience traumatic stress.

You will learn...

- ▶ the behavioral aftermath of early childhood trauma
- ▶ the impact of early life stress and trauma on brain development
- ▶ phenomenological and practical perspectives on stress, trauma, and pediatric PTSD
- ▶ recent research on PTSD in early childhood development
- ▶ the value of multi-modal treatment approaches
- ▶ the role of psychopharmacology in the treatment of PTSD symptoms
- ▶ how to determine PTSD severity and comorbidity
- ▶ the Stanford Cue-Centered Treatment Model
- ▶ how to apply the Cue-Centered protocol

Continuing Education Credit

12 hours of BBSE (Provider PCE 799) and BRN (Provider 00656).
MCEP (Provider CAL123) and
MCLE credit pending final approval.

For more information or to enroll please visit:

California State University, Chico
Center for Regional and Continuing Education

CENTER FOR REGIONAL AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

CSU, CHICO
RESEARCH FOUNDATION

- ▶ rce.csuchico.edu/inservice
- ▶ 530-898-6105

Publishers, public service agencies, and other resource providers will be on hand to exhibit and share information.