The Chico State London Program allows students to experience art – visual, architectural, and theatrical – in person. The faculty’s collaborative teaching model allows students to situate art into a long historical, literary, and cultural context, and the instructors combine their areas of expertise in compelling and thought-provoking ways that will give our students a rich experience.

Coursework

ENGL 441W/446: British Renaissance Literature will teach students about the relationships between literature and the history, architecture, and culture of Renaissance England.

ARTH 400: Medieval Art and Architecture in England will expose students to as much medieval art and architecture in and around London as possible in one month.
