Nepal: Cross-Cultural Exploration
May 30–July 6, 2019 | Earn 6 Units!

The ancient capital of Kathmandu, in the center of Nepal, is in a region of diverse cultures at the edge of the highest mountains in the world. Study and travel for five weeks in a collaborative program with Nepali university students, and explore diverse perspectives on current issues related to food production, environmental and resource management, and development efforts.

While Traveling, You Will:
- Engage in cultural programs.
- Participate in a village home-stay.
- Take part in Nepali cooking lessons and language instruction.
- Help villagers in a service project.
- Participate with guidance from agricultural and humanities faculty.
- Explore the markets, temples, villages and neighborhoods of diverse ethnic group.

Program Cost: $5,655
Includes academic course fees, travel, lodging, excursions, insurance, and international student identity card, and other fees and estimated personal expenses.

Coursework
GEOG 304: Sustainability Issues
PSSC 390: Food Forever OR
PSSC 399: Special Problems

For details & application visit: rce.csuchico.edu/passport/nepal

Faculty
Dr. Rich Rosecrance, Agriculture
rrosecrance@csuchico.edu

Dr. Lee Altier, Agriculture
laltier@csuchico.edu

There will be a pre-departure orientation with faculty.